Generations is made possible through generous gifts of George (WU'58) and Colleen Hoyt with additional support from the founding endowment given by the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde, through their Spirit Mountain Community Fund.

Generations results from the collaborative efforts of the following team:

Rebecca Dobkins, Professor Emeritus, Anthropology and Curator of Indigenous Art (retired); Elizabeth Garrison, Guest Curator and The Cameron Paulin Curator of Education (retired); Jonathan Bucci, The Maribeth Collins Director; John Olbrantz, Director Emeritus; Silas Cook, Exhibition Designer; Fred Soelzer, Silas Finch and Robin Richards, Exhibition Design Team; Mike Wright, Graphic Designer; Sara Swanborn, Registrar; Tom Fuller, Conservator; Vanessa Hopt, Assistant to the Director; and Tasia Riley (WU'21) and Natalie Ford (WU'22), Research Assistants.

Gratitude goes to those who participated in the original research for the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde Gallery:

Yvonne Lever, Registrar; Margaret Mathewson, Collections Consultant; Molly Ford (WU'98), Matthew Johnson (WU'99), Louis Schalk (WU'98), Holly Simpson (WU'00), and Adam Withycombe (WU'98), Research Assistants; and student intern Kylie Pine (WU'06).

Generations is dedicated to all the artists whose creativity and guidance have inspired the development and interpretation of the collection.
